Purpose and Summary

Following up on the Office of the Law Revision Counsel's (OLRC) editorial reclassification of certain provisions classified to titles 7, 20, and 43 of the United States Code (the Code), H.R. 5679 would update statutory references to those reclassified provisions in other Code titles.

Background and Need for the Legislation

The House has assigned to the Judiciary Committee responsibility for the “Revision and codification of the Statutes of the United States.”¹ In modern practice, this responsibility entails periodically updating the United States Code (“the Code”). Currently organized in 54 titles based on subject matter, the Code contains all of the general and permanent laws of the United States.

Congress created the Code in 1926 to compile federal laws into a sensible, up-to-date collection that would spare people the labor of searching for laws in the chronologically-organized volumes of the Statutes at Large.² To date, 27 of these 54 titles have been enacted into “positive law,” which means the text of these titles is itself the law,³ while the remaining titles are “non-positive,” meaning that they organize federal statutes for users’ convenience, but do not themselves have the force of law.⁴

The entity responsible for updating the Code as Congress passes new laws or amends existing ones is the Office of the Law Revision Counsel (OLRC).⁵ Established within the House of Representatives, OLRC’s purpose is “to develop and keep current an official and positive codification of the laws of the United States,” while maintaining strict impartiality as to issues of legislative policy.⁶ The Judiciary Committee plays an essential role in two of OLRC’s important functions.

OLRC is required:

- (1) To prepare, and submit to the Committee on the Judiciary one title at a time, a complete compilation, restatement, and revision of the general and permanent laws of the United States which conforms to the understood policy, intent, and purpose of the Congress in the original enactments, with such amendments and corrections as will remove ambiguities, contradictions, and other imperfections both of substance and of form, separately stated, with a view to the enactment of each title as positive law.

The Judiciary Committee therefore plays a key role in maintaining the accuracy of the U.S. Code. OLRC regularly submits to the

² The Statutes at Large is the collection of laws passed in a particular session of Congress, arranged in sequence by public law number, <https://www.archives.gov/federal-register/publications/statutes.html>. The content of the Statutes at Large is considered “legal evidence of laws, concurrent resolutions, treaties, international agreements other than treaties, proclamations by the President, and proposed or ratified amendments to the Constitution of the United States therein contained, in all the courts of the United States, the several States, and the Territories and insular possessions of the United States.” 1 U.S.C. § 112.

³ For example, H.R. 2694 (117th Congress) proposes amending Title 18 (“Crimes and Criminal Procedure”), which is a positive title of the U.S. Code, so it is drafted to directly amend a provision of that title (“Section 4285 of title 18, United States Code, is amended in the first sentence. . . .”). The content of positive-law Code titles is considered “legal evidence of the laws therein contained, in all the courts of the United States, the several States, and the Territories and insular possessions of the United States.” 1 U.S.C. § 204.

⁶ H. Res. 988 (93d Congress), § 205(c), as enacted into law by Pub. L. 93–554 (2 U.S.C. § 285a).

Committee proposed legislation that carries out its mission to keep the Code current and correct. The Judiciary Committee then considers and reports this legislation to the House. If the legislation passes into law, OLRC implements the changes in the Code.

H.R. 5679 is the result of several “editorial reclassification” efforts that OLRC has undertaken in recent years to better organize the Code’s non-positive titles. According to OLRC, the purpose of editorial reclassification is, “to reorganize areas of law that have outgrown their original boundaries, or to eliminate organizational units that are no longer efficient.”⁷ Without altering any statutory language, OLRC relocates and rearranges provisions to make the organization of titles more logical and accessible. As a result of these editorial classifications, statutory references in other titles of the Code must also be updated.

In 2017, OLRC moved provisions from chapter 17 (“Miscellaneous Matters”) in title 7 (Agriculture) into other sections in title 7 and, in a few cases, into titles 16 (Conservation) and 21 (Food and Drugs). OLRC also deleted a few provisions from chapter 17 as obsolete.⁸

In 2016, OLRC moved part C of title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965 from title 42 (The Public Health and Welfare) to title 20 of the Code (Education) and made a few more conforming changes to the structure of title 20.⁹ OLRC explained that before this reorganization, it was “awkward and confusing” to cite to the Higher Education Act and the portion of the law appearing in title 42 was easily overlooked. It continued:

*Transferring part C of title IV of the Act from its former location in Title 42 to its proper location in Title 20 brought the structure of the Code into logical correspondence with the structure of the Act and simplified references to the Act.*¹⁰

In 2017, OLRC moved provisions from chapter 28 (“Miscellaneous Provisions Relating to Public Lands”) in title 43 (Public Lands) into other sections in title 43 and, in a few cases, into title 25 (Indians). OLRC also deleted a few provisions from chapter 28 as obsolete.¹¹

In the 115th Congress, the Judiciary Committee ordered reported a bill (sponsored by Rep. King of Iowa) making the necessary changes to cross-references in other titles of the Code affected by these three editorial reclassification efforts.¹² H.R. 5679 is an updated version of this legislation.

Committee Consideration

On November 3, 2021, the Committee met in open session and ordered the bill, H.R. 5679, favorably reported without an amendment, by a voice vote, a quorum being present.

Committee Votes

No roll call votes occurred during the Committee's consideration of H.R. 5679.

Committee Oversight Findings

In compliance with clause 3(c)(1) of House Rule XIII, the Committee advises that the findings and recommendations of the Committee, based on oversight activities under clause 2(b)(1) of House Rule X, are incorporated in the descriptive portions of this report.

Committee Estimate of Budgetary Effects

Pursuant to clause 3(d)(1) of House Rule XIII, the Committee adopts as its own the cost estimate prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

New Budget Authority and Congressional Budget Office Cost Estimate

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(2) of House Rule XIII and section 308(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, and pursuant to clause (3)(c)(3) of House Rule XIII and section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee has requested but not received from the Director of Congressional Budget Office (CBO) a budgetary analysis and a cost estimate of this bill. Based on CBO's analysis of a similar bill (H.R. 3239) transmitted to the Committee on June 14, 2021, the Committee estimates that H.R. 5679 would have no effect on the federal budget.

Duplication of Federal Programs

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(5) of House Rule XIII, no provision of H.R. 5679 establishes or reauthorizes a program of the federal government known to be duplicative of another federal program.

Performance Goals and Objectives

The Committee states that pursuant to clause 3(c)(4) of House Rule XIII, H.R. 5679 would help implement editorial reclassifications to portions of the United States Code, with the goal of improving and modernizing the overall organization of the Code.

Advisory on Earmarks

In accordance with clause 9 of House Rule XXI, H.R. 5679 does not contain any congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as defined in clause 9(d), 9(e), or 9(f) of House Rule XXI.
